Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

We abstain from commenting upon the virtues or lack of virtues of candidates for local offices. However we feel no compunction in commenting on the fact that certain candidates are receiving what appears to be the unanimous support of the CIO affiliate. They are Walter J. Phelps who would like to be sheriff and Arleigh Laird, who aspires to the county school superintendency. For state offices the CIO is whooping it up for Culbert (Free Mooney) Olson for Governor of California and Ellis (Free Mooney) Patterson for Lieutenant Governor. These four offices the CIO emphasize in abundant stickers and placards.

Far be it from the author of this column even to look down his nose at any candidate. But in this county there has been a winnowing of the grain from the straw, and any candidate who has the support of the CIO should be known publicly as their candidate. The information is here provided in order that voters who go to the polls so early that they are still half asleep, may remember these names and vote—as they please.

So far as candidates for state offices are concerned, the mere fact that the local CIO is supporting Olson should be a lighthouse to all those who believe that the political heirs of Upton Sinclair should not be allowed to inherit California. We have come to the conclusion that Olson, constantly ringing the changes of "liberalism," is not a liberal at all, but a dangerous radical, whose espousal of Tom Mooney's cause is symptomatic of his viewpoint and intentions. Governor Stephens made a great mistake when he commuted Mooney's sentence to hang. Mooney had only one neck to break for ten murders, and that one should be broken.

Illustrating the common use made of Olson's name by the American Committee of Liberals (another camouflaged name used by communists) is this precious gem that arrived in our mail today:

Frederic March, the movie star today sent Tom Money the following message of encouragement on the occasion of Mooney's twenty second year in prison:

"Dear Tom may this be the last annual protest meeting ever to be held on the Mooney case. Surely within the next six months either the supreme court of the United States or Governor Culbert L. Olson of California will have granted you a full and complete pardon which has been your unquestionable right for nearly a quarter of a century."

The name of this movie star reminds us that it was only a few days ago that witnesses before a senate committee presented pretty damning evidence that Hollywood, led by its top flight actors and actresses, had gone radical. It is about time to page Will Hays, though whether he can function under the New Deal or not is a question. We surmise also that he carries about as much weight in the picture business as Jimmy Walker does in New York politics. Whether Will Hays moves or not against the reds in the film industry, there is always a court of last resort which may presently sit as judge and jury on Bolshevik stars. A while back Catholic organizations did a good cleansing job in eliminating screen filth. The same method can be used against movie stars that go Russian.

There are elements of comedy in the use of the name of one of these pampered, perfumed pets of Hollywood in connection with California's greatest unhung murderer. But tragedy also lurks in this name pairing or artist and felon. The wee ewe lamb attracted by the pretty stripes of a tiger may have one moment of bliss, but terror and regret banish it, as the lamb disappears. Mooney and Mooney lovers would destroy this republic if once entrusted with power. Movie stars with their tremendous income will be one of the first bright targets of communism if it gets the upper hand in California.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Muscardini had as guests the following cousins of Mrs. Muscardini, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Simmonds, Burlingame; Virginia and Warren Carleton, Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Daus and son, Jim, Sacramento. Many trips and picnics were made about the county all having a happy visit.

FEDERAL HELP DEMANDED FOR MIGRANT HORDE

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 22.—More than 100,000 persons have signed petitions demanding Federal action on California's pressing migrant situation.

In addition, organizations, whose membership runs into hundreds of thousands, have endorsed the program of the California Citizens' Association. These include labor unions, American Legion posts, farm bureaus, chambers of commerce and other service and civic groups.

Although there has been a falling off in the number of migrants now entering California, the 230,000 migrants now here are exacting a terrific price from California resident labor, according to Thomas W. McManus, secretary of the association.

"Already they are encroaching on the wage structure. Farm wages are off 5 to 10 cents an hour, and in the oilfields migrants are offering to work for as little as one-sixth the going scale." McManus said.

McManus is touring the state in the interest of the drive that seeks to have federal agencies care for the migrants in their home state instead of in California where, after a 12-month period, they become eligible for state relief and a burden on California taxpayers.

"Aside from the direct cost of relief, there are the additional burdens of schooling, hospitalization and welfare," he said.

Union labor throughout the state is taking a positive stand with the Citizens' Association in efforts to keep California jobs for Californians.

McManus scored placement of non-resident migrants on WPA jobs as a ruinous policy that would ultimately saddle the state with a permanent indigent load out of all proportion to the state's population.

"This WPA job policy and the policy of the Farm Security Administration in giving migrants a dole of groceries, enabling them to stay here until they have achieved residence, after which they become California's responsibility."

He pointed out that indigency is a lien against the property of a state and that indigents of one state have no right to try to transfer that lien to the property holders of another state. "No more so," he continued, "than a migrant would have the right to your house and say—'move over, me and the wife and six young ones have come to live with you'."

LAVA CAP MINES

Development continues on the 1200 and 1400 levels in the Banner shaft on the Lava Cap property and it is coming along quite up to expectations. Six directors of the corporation were here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and went through the mine.

The annual report for 1937 of the Lava Cap Gold Mining Corporation gives 104,020 tons of ore mined and milled that averaged $11.34 in gold and $2.06 in silver. Receipts were cut $50,000 during the year due to drop in the price of silver. The company listed total advances as 14,805 feet drifts, raises, cross cuts and shafts. Plans call for intersecting additional ore systems. Since the first of the year crews have been increased at the mine and ore production stepped up. The mine now employs 270 men.

HOME BUILDING IN STATE SHOWS SHARP INCREASE

A rising trend of bank debits, an impressive decline in business failures and a strong outlook for volume in residential building highlights the business picture for California outlined in Bank of America's Review for the month of July, just released.

July bank debits in each of fifteen principal California cities showed a gain in their average daily value over June, and three of these cities reported gains over July, 1937.

Business failures in the state during June totalled only 61, the smallest monthly total since December, 1937, and a decline of 12 per cent from the month of May. Liabilities of firms failing during June, estimated at $387,000, were less than for any month since June, 1937. The June total was 56 per cent lower than in May and 48 per cent lower than the monthly average for the entire five months of 1938.

Residential building permits during July in 11 principal California cities were valued at $6,621,000, which was 30.2 per cent higher than in the same month a year ago, and a seasonal decrease of only 11.9 per cent from June, 1938. The outlook for residential building, the review notes, continues favorable. The number of mortgages selected for appraisal at the San Francisco office of FHA during July totalled 1,388 for a value of $6,268,600. This was 43 per cent more in number and 55 per cent higher in value than in July, 1937.

In the Los Angeles office of FHA the number of applications for insured loans received in July was only slightly below the June total, which is interpreted as an indication that residential building in that area probably will be maintained during August at approximately the July rate. It is expected that the volume of California residential building for the entire year of 1938 will be the best for any year since 1929.

INDEPENDENT UNION SIGNS UP WITH P. G. & E.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—Recognizing the California Gas and Electric Employees Union as sole bargaining agent for all offoce workers, the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has signed an agreement with the independent union for a period of one year, it was announced here today by Gordon T. Jones, union president.

The agreement automatically renews itself from year to year unless either party gives notice of desire to cancel ninety days prior to any expiration date. The contract provides that changes and additions may be made at any time by mutual consent.

"The office workers agreement sets up the machinery for taking care of wages, classifications and all other matters affecting employee welfare," Jones said "The agreement sets up a board of arbitration which will function in cases where our representatives and the management cannot reach agreement at the conference table. The board of arbitration will consist of an ejual number to be selected by the CG&EE Union and the company, and a like number of neutral citizens.

"The agreement does not curtail the right of employees to strike should the management fail to obey an award by the arbitration board.

"The agreement has been drawn so as to provide in every possible way against interruption of service to the public but at the same time giving employees every protection."

FOREST SERVICE BURGLAR IN NET

Edmond F. Koehler, age 26, of Roseville, is in the county jail at Placerville charged with burglary, according to DeWitt Nelson, forest supervisor at Nevada City. Koehler looted one civilian camp and one forest service bridge camp on the Rubicon river on August 13 and 14, according to Nelson, taking food, blankets, two rifles and various items of clothing. The theft was reported to Nelson's office, and Law Enforcement Officer J. D. Rafferty assigned to the case. After search through Roseville and Auburn he was finally apprehended at a hobo camp about two miles from Auburn. Rafferty was assisted by Constable Gilbert Cook, Georgetown. Koehler admits, according to Rafferty, serving time in a New Jersey reformatory, and Sheriff Ed Smith of Eldorado county is checking him for other camp robberies that have occurred in the same vicinity.

Cement mixers started turning out cement for foundations for the two apartment houses of Miss Emma Ramm on Grove street Saturday morning. This new modern building will be a fine addition to that part of the city.

The James Penrose and Son grocery store on Broad street received a coat of paint the latter part of last week and will be white with red lettering for Red and White Store.

Miss Amy Lou McCraney left Friday for the bay district to resume her studies in University of California, this being her second year.

The sponsors of the show state that the many details are being worked out and preparations for the big celebration are being rushed to the limit with nothing being spared in the way of expense and energy to insure the success of this gigantic fun-fest.

GRASS VALLEY BONDS SOLD AT PREMIUM

The Board of Supervisors this morning opened bids for the purchase of $85,000 of bonds offered by the Grass Valley school district. The high bidder was W. H. Moulton & Co. of San Francisco, who bought the bonds at par and offered $1025 premium, and accrued interest. The bonds bear the rate of 3¼ per cent.

DEVELOPMENT IN THE GERMAN BAR

Thomas Stephens, one of the principal owners of the German Bar mine on the Middle Yuba River passed through Nevada City Friday enroute to his home in Oakland after an inspection trip to the mine. The property adjoins the Plumbago mine in the Alleghany district. The Western Knapp Engineering firm is rehabilitating the mill at the mine and adding machinery and making several changes in the flow sheet.

Owing to the high water last winter which rose to 17 feet at the mine it cut under the mill and mine equipment letting it all down to a bank along the river taking away the foundations of the ball mill, flotation plant, jig and classifier. Damages to the property are estimated to be $7,500 A crew is building a retaining wall to protect the mine equipment in the future.

Several pieces of new equipment will be added to the property and it is expected the mine will be ready to reopen about September first. Ore will be hoisted from Number 4 to No. 3 tunnel. A winze is being unwatered below the spot where previous owners took out an enrichment of $2,600.

TAX RATE FOR COUNTY IS $1.60

The county board of supervisors this afternoon fixed the county tax at $1.60 per $100 valuation. The inside rate for Nevada City, however will be $1.70 more than that. Nevada City high school interest and sinking fund amounts to 10 cents per $100 valuation; Nevada City school interest and sinking fund, to 20 cents; Nevada City high school maintenance 60 cents, and Nevada City school maintenance 80 cents. Total rate within Nevada City is $3.30.

BEAR SPOILS SLEEP FOR BOY SCOUTS ON HIKE

Ten Boy Scouts and Scoutmaster Albert Pratti went to Pratti's mining claims in the Quaker Hill district Saturday afternoon. After going to their beds in the open near the cabin the boys had hardly fallen asleep at about 2:30 when a noise awakened them and there stood a big brown bear. Nearly all of the boys were quite frightened as the big creature would not move when they flashed their flish-lights at him and yelled. It seems Ted Edinger, Jr., slept through the whole skirmish but Bill Hatch did not get much sleep after the bear decided to go on his way.

Awakening at five o'clock the boys saw several deer in the clearing. Two came down to the spring to drink. An observation hike was made during the forenoon and all returned home at about 4:30 yesterday afternoon.

In the party were, Leland and Warren Smith, Bill Hatch, Ernest Helme, George Richardson, Dick Gregory, Ted Edinger, Dean Laughlin, Douglass Noble, Vincent Lewis and Scoutmaster Albert Pratti.

OLD ICE HOUSE SAWDUST FLARES IN FIRE MENACE

The State Division of Forestry sent a crew and truck to the remnants of the old saw dust filled ice house on the Brindejhon and Sauvee properties in the Blue Tent section during the noon hour. The building was burned about six days ago and the saw dust has smouldered all this time. A strong wind this forenoon fanned it into a flame and it was feared it would spread to the fields and nearby forest.

This is one of the oldest ice houses in the state of California. It was built by Mr. Sauvee's father at about the same time another ice house was built on the northern slopes of Quaker Hill east of Nevada City, each having ice ponds. The first ice houses were built at Truckee where crews cut ice from vast ice ponds and stored it for the summer trade.

The heavy snow storm about two years ago crushed in the old ice house at Blue Tent which was 75 feet long and 50 feet wide and had not been used for many years.

Here's Something To Ty To

(From the Sacramento Union Editorial Page)

Olson is a radical and the liberal-but-not pinkish Democrats won't vote for him in the November finals if the Republicans can put forward a liberal nominee. That liberal nominee is George C. Hatfield, not Governor Frank F. Merriam, proclaims Lawrence Cobb, former assemblyman and now secretary of the Republican state central committee at Los Angeles. Nominate Merriam and Olson is a cinch to be the next governor, says Mr. Cobb, nick-named "Ty" by his friends.

But there's another "Ty" Cobb, the real "Ty."

The real "Ty" Cobb, who moved to San Mateo when his career as the greatest batsman and base runner in the history of baseball was aver, thinks the "Ty" of Los Angeles who trades on the glory of a name not his is out before he gets to first base. The real "Ty" Cobb remembers that the liberal Democrats DID vote for Merriam in 1934 when Olson was managing the campaign of a socialist author named Upton Sinclair.

And the real "Ty" Cobb is going to bat for Merriam again in this campaign. At San Mateo this week, he said:

"I admire Governor Merriam as a man as well as the things he stands for in public life. He has both feet on the ground at all times. His capable handling of the state's finances, his grasp of the problems of agriculture and industry and his humanitarian policies appeal to me as reasons why we should keep him at the head of our state government."

Just how heavy a batting average the Los Angeles "Ty" Cobb compiled in the assembly and in politics, the records don't disclose. But they do show that Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the original Georgia Peach, was a .400 mitter. And the August 30 primary will prove he's still belting line drives to deep right center while the Cobb, Lawrence is popping out.

Are We Red?

California's reaction to the current Congressional investigation, which has painted some of its citizens — from thousand-a-week movie stars to quarter-an-hour laborers—with the red brush of Communism will be a determination to rid the state of any trace of Communist domination.

The Federal sleuths have made definite charges—that movie millionaires are contributing to the cause that will liquidate their fortunes, that alien agitators have won high honors in labor organizations, that federal authorities, instead of halting, have aided Communist activity.

But what of our own investigators? Have they been able to verify these charges? "There is little doubt," says ex-G-man Maurice Norcop, candidate for State Controller, "that there are Communists in California. Some have insinuated themselves into our activities. Others have succeeded in disguising themselves as labor leaders. The average worker, however, must not be penalized because a few paid agitators have been able to find places in labor's organizations.

"Where reds have gained a foothold," says Mr. Norcop, "they must be ruthlessly expelled. The average Californian, whose only 'ism' is his enthusiasm for American ideals, demands a state free from alien influence. There is no place here for the propagation of a system of government which would destroy democracy!"

That is the report of a native Californian, a G-man who has made it his business to discover the truth about Communism in California. There is no red-flag waving in those words. But there is an echo of California's determination to end Communistic intrigue within the borders of the state—Contributed.

WHITE BANNERS POWERFUL STORY THEATRE THURS.

The Nevada Theatre will have as its feature attraction, starting Thursday, "White Banners," based on the best selling novel by Lloyd C. Douglas, who also authored those popular successes, "Magnificent Obsession" and "Green Light." "White Banners" is a picture with universal appeal. Laid in the 1920's, it tells the story of a typical small town family, discouraged by depression. How they weather this and get a new start in life is a thrilling story that will go straight to the hearts of America.

Fay Bainter, noted stage actress, whose recent work in "Jezebel" was so highly acclaimed, has the central reminine role. Claude Rains has the principal male lead, and Kay Johnson, Bonita Granville, Jackie Cooper round out th cast of principals, with James Stephenson, Henry O'Neill, John Ridgley and J. F. McDonald in supporting roles. Edmund Goulding directed.

Policeman—"How did you happen to hit the other car?"

Motorist — "It really was my wife's negligence. She fell asleep in the back seat."

"Oh, mama, look," cried the tiny youngster on her first visit to the country, "There's a duck! And it walks like it had just got out of a rumble seat."

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder when a dim, old trail
Turns from the traveled road away,
And leads to some forsaken camp
Where dwell the ghosts of yesterday,
If those who follow understand
The forest voices soft and low,
The mute, scarred earth, the shattered flume,
The ditch through which no waters flow.

I wonder if we, who live along the mother lode and in the great valley of the Sacramento, are fully aware of the historic, romantic and dramatic values which surround us.

These assets of history and romance, should not be regarded as mere shadows of the past, and of but little worth, save to the occasional author who exploits them; and substance of the shadows may be made to contribute very materially to the growth and prosperity of the present; How?

First, perhaps by inquiring of ourselves "what would Los Angeles do if she possessed our ruined shrines and landmarks?" Then follow her example.

A recent visitor to the San Juan Ridge, was greatly interested in the old brick building at French Corral from which the first long distance "Hello" flew out across the realms of space, and in the silent, yawning chasm which was at one time the roaring American mine.

Los Angeles would have both of these attractions neatly fenced and decorated with "This Way," signs. Yet many citizens of Nevada County have never visited either one of them.

Yes, we have many historic landmarks which would be of interest to tourists but we, ourselves, must know and appreciate them, before we can properly introduce them to those who live beyond our borders.

I wonder how many residents of Grass Valley have a definite knowledge of the exact spot where gold bearing quartz was first discovered? And how many Sacramentons are there who have never found time to visit the Crocker Art Gallery, Sutter's Fort and the Deodor trees in Capitol Park. Really our slogan should be, See Our Own Locality First.

I wonder what would happen if government officials should run out of subjects for investigation; certainly, many an ardent soul would find his occupation gone; perhaps the states would totter. Of course, the average citizen would suffer no inconvenience, he is seldom impressed by the wild hullabaloo, and never receives definite information concerning the results obtained; in fact, he remains rather casual until an examination of his tax rates, convinces him that he is being formed to defray expenses.

Uncle Silas says: "Our highways would be much safer for motorists and pedestrians, if drivers would realize that they can't hold cocktails and stering wheels at one and the same time." —A. MERRIAM CONNER.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITHS DEETER

We lament: There are two words we've had a violent desire to use in a large and glittering way for lo! these many moons. One is "academic" and the other "moppet." We are very sold on said syllables, they roll off the tongue with such ease, however having no moppets and being totally unacademic we are afraid the desire will have to remain a suppression.

This week's gurgle: We have a pal in the Capitol City who has a mania for writing post cards. We always feel the post office personnel somewhere along the line must get a lot of free amusement. The latest card contained a query, if the color of a buttercup is yellow what color is a hiccup? The answer, oh my very patient reads, is "burple." Do I hear a cum laude? A bit W. C. Fieldish, don't you think?

We make a discovery: Lately we have found our lawns simply smothered with nice soft squishy fat slugs. It is a delightful feeling to come out of the swimming pool in bare feet and toddle across a carpet of said bugs. Well, we moaned and moaned about it, and we did not use any poisons on account of because we use our lawn grass for our chickens and we did not want to wake up some fine morning and find all our fat hens in the throes of death. So we just moaned on and on — then Handsome Herbert came to stay, and we wept on his shoulder about it, whereupon he lifted his strong right arm and said: "Leave it to H. H." And so we did, and so what? And so this a. m. we have a magnificent crop of extremely dead slugs. And the secret? Well, H. H. turns them gently onto their backs, sprinkles them lightly and artistically with ordinary table salt, and lo! when morning in the Bowl of Night has flung the Stone that puts the Stars to Flight, etc: Slugs catchum allee velly dead! We find Handsome Herbert is full of helpful little hints like this, we are collecting them and will pass them on from time to time.

Well we have to go milk a cow, and so with this we say, hulloa family and cheerio everybody!

EXPERIENCE IS NEEDED IN TAX ADMINISTRATION

SACRAMENTO, Aug. —The need of experienced administration of California's tax laws was never greater than it is at the present time, in the opinion of R. E. Collins, Redding, chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

"The Board of Equalization is responsible for more than 70 per cent of the income derived by the state from various sources. Last year, for instance, the taxes assessed and collected by the board amounted to more than $194,000,000," Collins explained.

"As a result of the board's efficient work as the major tax agency, it has been announced that the state's budget will be balanced in the near future for the first time in seven years. This would be of particular importance to California, and nothing should be done to disturb the tax structure which has made it possible."

Collins pointed out that the Board of Equalization has been given many duties in addition to the administration of eight of the most important sources of governmental revenue.

"It is the duty of the board to assess all public utility property amounting to more than $1,000,000,000 and representing approximately one-seventh of the taxable wealth of the state," the chairman added.

"We also are required to maintain a uniform level of assessment among the 58 counties of the state and prepare and issue instructions to assessors as a means of promiting uniformity in the local assessment of property. The board also acts as a board of appeal from action of the Franchise Tax Commissioner on bank and corporation franchise taxes and the personal income tax."

Collins, who has been the third district member of the Board of Equalization for the past 32 years, is seeking re-election this year. He has filed for nomination by the Republican, Democratic and Pregressive parties at the primaries, August 30th.

Jack Horner of Sacramento who has spent the past week in Nevada City visiting his aunt, Mrs. Leslie Land, left for his home Saturday.

A DOCTOR FOR A DOCTOR'S JOB

When a layman is Coroner, he must call in a Doctor to perform an autopsy to determine the cause of death, but WHEN A DOCTOR IS CORONER, HE HIMSELF CAN DO THIS WORK, as only a Doctor being trained and qualified, is permitted by Law to do so.

The Doctor who is Coroner is not interested in burials. This is the work of the mortician and we have two qualified firms in our Community to handle such business. Both past lay Coroners have stated that the Coroner's office should be taken out of the hands of an undertaker. They should know, because that office rightfully belongs to a professional man. This is recognized by many states in requiring only a Doctor to serce as Coroner.

Death on the operating table during an anesthetic or surgery may become a Coroner's case. There are in addition certain medico-legal forms of death from causes which usually form the basis of criminal investigation. Among these are the following: Death by drowning, by suffocation, by lightning and electricity, by burning, by criminal neglect and starvation, by cold and exposure, by heat apoplexy and by mortal wounds. Who is better qualified to cooperate with the Officials to determine these causes—a Doctor who is Coroner or a Layman?

Place the Coroner's Office in the hands of a Doctor, where it rightfully belongs — A DOCTOR FOR A DOCTOR'S JOB.

DR. D. L. HIRSCH FOR CORONER.

ADVENTIST PASTOR SPEAKS IN GLENWOOD

Cecil Olmstead of Fresno son of the regular pastor, delivered a sermon Saturday to Seventh Day Adventist congregation of Glenwood. He said: "Sometimes the question arises of why God permits sin to continue so long. What is God's plan for this world? First John 4:7-10 tells of God's love. Satan's rebellion will be a lesson to the universe. Everyone will be given a chance to be convinced of God's love. Sin which originated with Satan was allowed to develop to show its results. It is natural for a child to believe a thing is alright unless it is proven to them to be wrong. Adults also need to be convinced that sin is wrong. When all have made their choice between God and Satan, sin and those who cling to it will be destroyed."

Mrs. Roland Wright and mother Mrs. Charles Genasci, are spending a few days visiting in Calistoga and the bay district.
